Alexandra W. Albright Cements Relationship with Alexander Dubose

AUSTIN — Sept. 5, 2017 — Civil procedure expert Alexandra Wilson Albright joins Alexander Dubose Jefferson & Townsend LLP full-time as a partner after many years of dual service to The University of Texas at Austin School of Law and to the firm as of-counsel. She will be in the firm’s Austin office, practicing throughout Texas and nationally.

Ms. Albright recently retired from her 29-year career at The University of Texas at Austin School of Law. Her work as a member of the faculty focused on federal and Texas civil procedure, and her service included many years as the school’s Associate Dean.

“I am eager to apply my skills to the practice of law in new ways with this group of brilliant attorneys,” Ms. Albright said. “Practicing appellate law shares a great deal of common ground with teaching. Both involve thorough preparation, clear explanations of difficult concepts, persuasive writing, and compelling oral presentation. I look forward to writing and editing briefs, preparing myself or others for oral argument, and consulting on trial strategy.”

Ms. Albright is highly regarded as an expert in the rules of trial and appellate procedure and is Board Certified in Civil Appellate Law. Nearly three decades of work in this area—in the classroom and in courtrooms—has given her valuable insight into trial court-level action and how it impacts appellate practice. She is respected by judges and practitioners in both federal and state courts for her wealth of experience and pragmatic approach to litigation.

“We are thrilled to welcome Alex full-time to the firm,” said former Chief Justice Wallace B. Jefferson. “She is uniquely qualified to provide clients with sophisticated appellate analysis, and her knowledge will be invaluable to complex trial and appellate matters in high-stakes litigation.”

Ms. Albright is a member of the American Law Institute and has been a member of the Texas Supreme Court Advisory Committee on Court Rules since 1993, where she played a key role in redrafting the discovery rules that went into effect in January 1999. She is a long-time member of the Texas Pattern Jury Charge Oversight Committee and was presented a Presidential Citation by the State Bar of Texas in 2008 for her service as Reporter to the State Bar Task Force on Court Administration. She authored the casebook “Texas Courts: A Survey” and co-authored the “Handbook on Texas Discovery Practice,” part of West’s Texas Practice Series.

Ms. Albright is an honors graduate of the University of the South: Sewanee and The University of Texas School of Law. She was a law clerk for Judge Thomas M. Reavley of the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, then an associate and later partner at the firm of Thompson & Knight in Dallas, where she had a general civil trial and appellate practice.
